ITEM 4.02(a). Non-Reliance on Previously Issued Financial Statements or a Related Audit Report or Completed Interim Review

On May 11, 2006, the Company concluded that its financial statements at March 31, 2005, June 30, 2005 and September 30, 2005 and for the periods then ended, included in its Form 10-Qs for the periods ended March 31, 2005, June 30, 2005 and September 30, 2005, respectively, should no longer be relied upon due to an error in those financial statements which resulted in the incorrect calculation of manufacturing overhead costs being applied to inventory. The Company will restate the results for the quarter ended March 2005 in its Form 10-Q filing for the period ended March 31, 2006 and will be amending its Form 10-Qs for the periods ended June 30, 2005 and September 30, 2005 to reflect the restated results of those periods. The Company has also disclosed below the impact of the restatement on the results for the quarter ended December 31, 2005, which were previously reported in the Company's Form 10-K. No restatement of the Company's financial statements for the for the years ended December 31, 2005 and December 31, 2004 is necessary as a result of the matters discussed below as the Company has determined they are not material to those periods based on the materiality guidelines contained in SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 99 — "Materiality".

During the first quarter of 2006, the Company determined that its historical methodology for the calculation of indirect manufacturing overhead costs applied to inventory was incorrect and also identified a clerical error in the calculation of the overhead applied to inventory for the three months ended December 31, 2005. The Company originally recorded an adjustment in the first quarter of 2006 to correct the net cumulative impact of the change in methodology and the clerical error. However, as it was subsequently determined that the impact of correcting the methodology related to prior periods was material to the operating results of the first quarter of 2006, a further adjustment was necessary to reflect the cumulative net impact of the change in methodology related to the relevant prior year periods. Additionally, the Company has recorded the impact of previously unrecorded adjustments related to cut-off errors primarily for legal and professional fees and the related income tax effects.

Since the errors were not previously identified in the prior periods in which they occurred, a material weakness was deemed to exist at March 31, 2006. Management has corrected the methodology for calculating indirect manufacturing expense applied to inventory in the first quarter of 2006 and plans to implement additional procedures and controls surrounding the preparation and review of the overhead calculation, including verification of spreadsheet accuracy. The Company consulted with and advised the Audit Committee of its Board of Directors of its determination. The Company's Audit Committee also consulted with the Company's independent accountants regarding the matters described in this Form 8-K.

The impact of these adjustments in the first quarter of 2006 was to increase indirect manufacturing expenses by $21,000 and reduce sales, general and administrative expenses by $220,000, resulting in a $113,000 increase in net income to $806,000 compared to $693,000 reported in our earnings release on April 26, 2006.

For the three months ended March 31, 2005, the correction to adjust for the change in methodology for the calculation of manufacturing overhead costs applied to inventory resulted in an increase in indirect manufacturing expense of $111,000 and a decrease in sales, general and administrative expenses of $54,000. At December 31, 2004, the Company had approximately $128,000 of legal services rendered but not invoiced which were attributable to the prior period and were previously determined to be immaterial. These services were subsequently expensed in the first quarter of 2005 and as such, to reflect them in the correct period, the Company has recorded an adjustment to reduce sales, general and administrative expenses in the first quarter of 2005 by $128,000. The net impact of these adjustments in the first quarter of 2005 was to generate net income of $5,000 compared to the net loss of $(39,000) as previously reported in our Form 10Q/A filed on January 13, 2006.

A summary of the impact to correct the amount of manufacturing overhead costs applied to inventory, record previously unrecorded cut-off errors and the related income tax effects on the income statement for the three months ended March 31, 2005 is as follows:

The Company's income statements for the second and third quarters of 2005 will be adjusted for the correction of these items in amended Form 10-Qs to be filed for the periods ended June 30, 2005 and September 30, 2005 as reflected in the tables below. The Company has determined that the impact on the balance sheets of the aforementioned periods was immaterial.
